THE DRAMA.

LYCEUM THEATER.

ENGLISH OPERA BOUFFE-EMILY SOLDENE. Miss Emily Soidene, making her first appearance in America, came forward, at the Lyceum The ater, last evening, and acced and sung to the hearty and warmly manifested delight of a crowd of spectators that filled the house. Miss Soldene is a handsome woman, in the massive style, and is a sprightly actress. She possesses a clear, rich and melting voice, and her singing and soting evince the results of careful study and useful experience. A wholesome, womanly, good-humored manner, and a reflued and correct taste shine through her artistic manifestations and commend her not less to critical acceptance and respect than to popular sym-pathy and good-will. She has the mirthful freedom of the French school of comic vocalism, restrained and guided by a native English sense of decorum, courtesy, and self-respect. Her vocalism is of an engaging kindbeing slivery, free, cordial, earnest, and alike spirited She appeared as Drogon, in an English version of " Genevieve de Brabant," from which certain objectionable Fren h features have been "burnt and purged away." Miss Soldene was the recipient of sincere applause, especially for her fine execution of a tender song of reverse over sleep and love, in the second act. This was one of the best hits of the evening. The piece was set upon the stage amidst accessories of unin beauty, and was spiritedly done, in two acts. The Watteau picture, in act second, was preity. The well-worn gens-d'armes duct had another welcome. The company is stronger in acting than in vocalism. There is a little too much talk to the text, and the bad local gags are a bismish. Space does not now serve us for particular comment on the enter ainment thus offered. English Opera Bouffe is a simple and charming kind of amusement; and its establishment at the Lyceum Theater-where it has appeared under cleanly and prosperous auspices-puts an innocent pleasure, amidst artistic and refined conditions, within the reach of our public, such as it will not be slow to discover and improve. Without discussing particulars, we wish to record impression a from this opening performance, such as prompt a word of cordial praise for Miss Soldene and well balanced company. The play of "Moorcroft" was withdrawn from this stage on Saturday night, after fifteen performances. Last evening "The School for Scandal" was reproduced, and this will be given again this evening-so that persons who missed seeing the pretty spectacle may repair their omission now. Ou Wednesday night Mr. Daly will offer "The Belle's S ratagem."

BARNUM'S HIPPODROME.

OPENING NIGHT.

There was a great crowd at the Hippodrome last night, and certainly the eager throng was well rewarded for its presence and attention. Mr. Barnum's exhibition is, beyond doubt, the most popular spectacle in the land. The aspect of the Hippodrome was fresh and brilliant. The assemblage of spectators—nearly alling the house-proved, in itself, a most impressive feature. The performances comprised Roman chariot races,—closely imitative of the ancient reality.—together with races of monkeys, elephants, camels, and jockeys; and vast and gorgeous processions marched to and fro around the spacious, well-lighted arena; and the usages were imitated, in camp, in hunting, and in war and in love. A spirited copy of an English stag and theroughness, and it elicited vehement applause. Mr Barnum's promise to sugment every department of his Hippodrome has been kept. Among the curiosities to be shown at the Hippodrome to night will be the Election Returns—and very curious some of them may chance to prove. At the close of the stag hunt, last night, Mr. Barnum was carled out, and he rode once around the ring, in an open carriage, bowing to the cheering crowds. The Chariot Race was won by Miss Salisbury: the Fiat Race by Miss Costineyra. Both. and indeed all, the races were exciting and gallant. The fine pack of degs, in the star hunt, attracted interested notice. There were twenty features in the programme. and all went with as much smoothness as if it had been the one hundredth instead of the first night of the new season. Mr. Nixon directed the entertainment. The audience was of a thoroughly respectable orderincluding many ladies and children.

There is some doubt whether, under the New-Jersey laws, students at colleges and seminaries are entitled to vote, changes of residence being so frequent that under a strict interpretation of the law many of the usual votes could probably be thrown out. A MISEE'S STOLEN GOLD

DETECTIVES STILL SEARCHING FOR LUTHER BRY ANT'S STOLEN TREASURE - ARREST OF TWO

THIEVES ON SUSPICION. Detectives Reilly and Williamson of the Central Office have been engaged with several others in the investigation of the Bryant robbery ever since its ecurrence. It will be remembered that the rooms of Luther Bryant, a strange recluse, who lived at No. 1 Forsyth-st., were entered during his absence as a prisoner in the Tombs, about three weeks ago, by burand money to the amount, he alleges, of $100,000 was taken away, $70,000 of the amount being in gold coin. Reilly and Williamson had reason to believe, partly from certain peculiarities of workmanship displayed in the burgiary and partly from statements made by other professionals with whom they associated in disguise during the search, that George Reley, altas "Rat, s notorious thief in the Twenty-muth Precinct, and Robert Murray another, well known in the east side districts, had been engaged in the affair, and for a week they have steadily watched these men. It seems, however, that the detectives were suspected by the thieves, and the two burglars conducted themselves in a most exemplary manner. At a saloon in Houston-st. however, Murray, while drinking one night, was heard to remark, in answer to a companion who said that he appeared to have a good deal of money, "Oh, this is othing; there is $70,000 behind this." When intoxicated he was very lavish of his money, and from most ragged thieves in the city he suddenly began to dress well. The detectives be coming assured that these men were implicated in the robbery were anxious to arrest them at the same time or in such a manner that one could not send time or in such a manner that one could not send word to the other, and also as suddenly that the stolen property in their possession could not be hidden away. On the evening of Friday they found that their most opportune time had come, and they arrested Murray opportune time had come, and they arrested Murray justas he was leaving his house at No. 22 Stanton-st. He protested his innocence, but they led him up stairs to his rooms, and searched the apartments closely. Nothing was found except a silk umbrella and a pawn-tacket for a revolver. Murray and the woman were convered to headquarters, where their arrest was kept a secret. The detectives then went to the neighborhood of Riley's residence, at No. 252 West Eighteenth-st., where on the secreding morning they also arrested Riley. In the search through his "oom another umbrelia, similar in material and make to that discovered in Morray's apartments, was found, and also a quantity of postace stamps, but no money. It is supposed that the cold cout, if they had any, was at once exchanged for bills, which were deposited in some safer place than a tenement-house apartment would be likely to prove. When the prisoners were confronted with Mr. Bryant and the Superintendent in the latter's office, resterday, they told different stories regarding the manner in which they came into possession of the umbrelias. Marray stated that he had found it on the train two months are while coming from Rochester to this city, and Riley said he had bought his for 85 from a sailor in West-st. about the same time. In reply to an inquiry as to the possession of the postage stamps, Riley stated that he had lost them three weeks ago by robbery. The two thieves were taken yesterday morning to the Tombs Poince Court, where they were arraigned and held for examination, which will take place on Thursday. word to the other, and also so suddenly that the stolen

THE FIRE RECORD.

THE FOREST FIRES IN OHIO.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2 .- Accounts of destructive forest fires continue to reach here from Southern Onto. together with stories of suffering and loss that have been inflicted upon the farmers by the destruction of buildings and crops. In Ross County, in the vicinity of Bainbridge and Boursaville, much destitution prevails awong those who resided in the path of the fire, and meetings are to be held there to organize means for their relief. In Gallia County, the inhabitants of Porter, ten miles from Gallipolis, have been fighting the fire for the past three days to save their town from destruction. Fires are reported on town from destruction. Fires are reported on all sides of Ironton, and the smoke has hung over the city like a pail all day. The woods on both sides of the Selota River near Portsmouth are burning vigorously and the smoke in that city is so dense as to prevent objects from being seen a few hundred feet distant. On Tarkey Creek several bouses, 15 acres of corn and other erops were burned last night. At Luncator the smoke from the fires on the Pine Hills to-day was so dense that it was necessary to hight the gas. Near Union City, Ind., the fires are reported as increasing and spreading rapidly over farms and through the timber.

A VILLAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA DESTROYED. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2 .- St. Joe, a small oil

THE DEFEAT OF DR. SEYMOUR FOR BISHOP OF

ILLINOIS. CHICAGO, Nov. 2 .- The Rev. Edward Sullivan. D. D., who was chiefly instrumental in defeating the confirmation of Dr. Seymour to the Bishopric of Ili nois, delivered an address to his church this evening on The True History of the Convention at New-York. The speaker's principal object was to controvert the statements that had been put in circulation to his injury. He denied that he voted for himself for Bishop in the Division Convention; that he had pledged himself to vote for Dr. Seymour's confirmation, or that his course in the General Convention was influenced by a personal feeling against Dr. Seymour. If that were personal needs against of seymout. It was wery mean position. He had never been a candidate for the office in the proper sense of the word, and had no ambition for it. As to the petitions against Dr. Seymour's confirmation. Dr. Sullivan said they were just what they purported to be, the signatures being those of prominent Episcopallaus in Chicago.

Later in the day, however, additional information was received from the Pacific Mail officials. The Captain of the City of Peking had concluded to continue the voyage without waiting to repair the broken blades, trusting to the good condition and strength of those which remained. in the Ist District, and Messrs. O'Neil! (Rep.) in the Iid. Randall (Dem.) in the Third, and Kelley (Rep.) in the Fourth, will be returned as members of the next Congress.

FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF MERCHANTS If a man was squarely on the side of Jayne, the Treasury agents generally, and the whole system of Custom-house oppression of our merchants as late, as the last of last February, is he a safe man now for merchants to support? Would they exercise so little care even in the selection of a clerk !

The following was written by Lago H. Bailey. now Grant Administration candidate for Congress in the XIth District, over his avowed signature, on the 22d of last February, and printed in The Portland Press. His friends had previously represented him as ardently opposed to moieties, Special Agents, the Phelps-Dodge iniquity, and in full sympathy with the efforts of merchants, last Winter, for reform. Since the discovery of this letter has exposed his bypocrisy, they now admit its authorship, but say he has since changed his mind! Merchants who do not like such late repentance will vote for Col. Benj A. Willis. Read what Mr. Bailey thought on the 22d of February, 1874, in the hight of last Winter's struggle for reform :

Just now it is the fashion to inveigh against all the subordinates of the Treasury Department who are entitled by law to a share in the seizures incident to a violation of the Revenue laws. We are presented with heart-rending pictures of a new reign of terror, in which the central figure is a devouring Treasury agent, sur rounded by a brigand-like gang of myrmidons, invading counting-houses, demanding books and papers, sur moning principals and employes to judgment, and reducing the entire establishment to such a pitiable condition of abject submission that they are only too ready to buy him off with the most extravagant sum his cupidity may suggest so much for the remance of the thing. Now to the facts. No seizure of books and papers can be made except on the order of a Federal Judge, baving no interest, re mote or contingent, in any penalties exacted.

If such an order is granted no forfeiture is possible except through the verdict of a jury. Nor is this all. The final arbitrament of every case rests with the Secretary of the Transury, who not only receives no share it the awards, but is on record in the most pronounced manner in opposition to the moiety system. If, in spite of these AMPLE SAFEGUARDS against injustice, parties will insist upon compromising and display a remarkable eagerness to pay lens and even hundreds of thousands of dollars [Pheips, Dodge & Co.] to avoid legal investigation, is not the inference presistible that they NUST HAVE VERY COGENT REASONS FOR DECLINING TO MEET THE

One thing is perfectly clear. No party who has trans acted his business in conformity to the Revenue laws, or who may have simply erred in his construction of them, and thereby incurred a penalty for unwittingly and tech nically violating their letter, need feel the slightest apprehension of being mulcied in damages. The faith of the Treasury Department is inviolably pledged to the prompt remission of all such penalties. Secretary Richardson has as little sympathy with official spoi ers as his predecessor, and both have lived through an epoch of vituperation and calumny, wholly unprece dented, without ever having been the subjects of suspicion or doubt in respect to their personal and official integrity. The President is in hearty accord with his minister of finance in this matter, and it cannot be too plainly set forth and understood that anybody who buys his way out of a Custom-house prosecution thereby shuts the door to the only effectual mode which was open to him of rindicating his reputation and demonstrating his innocence of any intentional wrong.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CANVASS IN ILLINOIS. PECULIAR POSITION OF THE OPPONENTS OF THE ADMINISTRATION-A POSSIBLE UPHEAVAL IN THE

STATE-PROSPECTS OF THE VARIOUS CANDIDATES. TROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. CHICAGO, Oct. 31.-Illinois has 19 members of Congress, and the delegation in the present House stands 14 Republicans. 5 Democrats. The nominations by the Opposition are somewhat peculiar. In Districts L. H., and iII., the candidates are avowed Democrats, and are supported as such, and, if elected, will act with the Democratic party. The 1st and Hd Districts are mainly in this city and county, but each has a small county attached. The IIId District is wholly within the city. The candidates are:

| Republican | Democrat | in 72 | I. Stoney Smith | B. G. Caulfield | 5.6.0 | II. J. D. Ward | C. H. Harrison | 3.300 | III. C. B. Farwell | J. V. Le Moyne | 4.340 |

The prospect at this writing is that all three Demo erats will be elected and that this county will give any where from 5,000 to 10,600 Democratic majority. In the IV n District, Stephen A. Hurlburt is the Republican candidate and J. F. Farusworth, Independent Republi can, opposed to Grantism, and in favor of revenue tariff, will be supported by the united opposition. Grant had 11,450 majority in the district in 1572. Tae chances are in favor of Farnsworth.

In the Vth District, both candidates are Republicans,

H. N. Burchard, Regular, and D. J. Pinkney, Independent. Republican majority in 1872, 6,498. Burchard will no doubt be reflected. In the VIth District, the Farmers'" movement is visible. The Republican majority in 1972 was 5,900. Both candidates are Republican-Thomas J. Henderson, Regular, and J. H. Elbott, Independent, and opposed to the Administration, and is supported by the combined opposition Vilia District presents an extraordinary state of affairs. The Republican majority in 1872 was 4.111. Corwin, the present member, is a Republican inflationist, but the opposing candidate, Alexander Campbell, a Democrat, while an honest man is so extravagant that he is generally regarded as insame on that subject. He unites all the opposition, and may be elected. In the VIIIth District the "Farmers' are strong, and they have united to support J. G. Bayne. an out-and-out Democrat, against Fort, the Republican member, who had 5,097 majority in 1872. The result depends upon how far the Grangers adhere to their neket, and is therefore uncertain. In the 1Xth District the candidates are W. H. Whiting, a regular Republican. and Leonard F. Ross, a Liberal Republican, wh will not affiliate with the Grant party. The Repub lican majority in 1872 was 1,800; the present chances are in favor of Ross. In the Xth District both candidates are Republicans. Henderson Ritchie, a Methodist preacher, is the regular. The opposition of all shades support John C. Bagby, an anti-Administration Republican, and the chances are in his favor.

In the XIth District Scott Wike is the regular Demo cratic nominee and will have perhaps 3,000 majority over his opponent. The XIIth District has three candidates: Springer, Democrat; Simpson, Hadependent Democrat, supported by Republicans, and J. B. Turner, Farmers'. This is a Democratic district, and Springer will probably be elected. The Xillth District is much "torn" by the Farmers. McNutta, the Republican candidate, had 2,640 majority two years ago. The Opposition now unites upon A. E. Stevenson, who, if elected, will not with the Democratic or Opposition party. The same State of affairs exists in the XIVth District, where Cannon, the Republican candidate, who had 3,756 majority two years ago, is now opposed by a Democratic farmer named James H. Pickreil. The result is uncertain. In the XVth District John R. Eden, the present Democratic member, will probably have 3,000 majority. The XVIth District has three candidates: Martin-pres ent member-Republican; Sparks, Democratic, Henry, Farmers'. The chances are in favor of Sparks. The XVIIth District will no doubt reflect W. M. Morrison, present Democratic member, over Rinaker, Republican, by 2,500 majority. In the XVIIIth District there is a square fight between Clements, Republican, and Hartzell, Democrat. Clements had 1,700 majority two years ago, but his reflection is doubtful. Though there are three candidates in the XIXth District, it is concoded that S. S. Marshall, Democrat, will be redicated.

PROSPECTS IN OTHER STATES.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 31 .- As the day of election approaches, the various political leaders are marshaling their forces in close marching order for the oming contest. There has been more acrimony and bad blood in this district than has ever been known since the war. Fights have occurred, but as yet there has been no loss of life. The situation in this district is a peculia one. On the Fourth of July last Robert Norton, a colored man of Yorktown, called together his friends and the members of the colored secret societies with whom he is promipently connected, and had himself nominated for Congress as the Republican candidate. In August the Hon. Jas. H. Piatt, the present Representative from this District, was nominated at Hampton as the regular Republican caudidate by a Convention composed of Republicans both white and colored. In September the Conservatives met in Suffolk and nominated the Hon. John Goode, a prominent lawyer of Norfold, as their standard bearer, and the triangular fight began in carnest. Since that time proctings have been beid in nearly every happlet in the District. Yesterday at a meeting in [Yorktown, a report of which was telegraphed, when Platt and sa party of his friends arrived there, they found Norton and Goode in possession of the field. Words were at once exchanged between them, and the Norton faction and exchanged between them, and the Norton faction and from words it soon came to blows, followed quickly by the drawing of knives and pistois. Some half a dozen shots were fired, one on each aide receiving slight flesh wounds, when the trouble was quieted by the better judgment of the more conservative. Walle the meeting was going on the Conservatives who were in attendance quietly viewed the scene. They then formed if a triangle three separate groups. Platt addressed his friends, Goode his and Norton his; and thus ended in bloodshed.

MR. THEDEN'S WAR RECORD. HIS PATRIOTIC ADDRESS TO A REGIMENT IN 1861.

For the Editor of the Tribune. Sin: On Saturday afternoon, June 23, 1861, a stand of regimental colors—the gift of its Democratic friends, merchants and others-was presented to the 37th Regiment, N. Y. S. Volunteers. The colors were presented at the Battery, the regiment there being drawn up in line, and being at the time ready to depart for the scene of war, which it did on the following day. There was some coremony at the presentation of the flags, and several speeches were made. One of the speakers on the occasion was Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, who made a stirring appeal to the officers and men of the realment—a speech not excelled in particular by any public speaker during the war of the rebellion. The writer of this letter knows whereof he affirms, for he was also present and took part in the present line corrections. nd took part in the presentation ceremony.

FOUNDERING OF A STEAMER ON LAKE SUPERIOR.

Sr. PAUL, Nov. 2. - The steamer Lottie Bernard, Capt. Morris, of Duluth, bound from Pigeon River to Duluth, foundered on Lake Superior on Thursday last during a fearful gale, which swept the decks and finally extinguished the fires. There were 15 persons on board, including one passenger-Willie Bianchard. The latter and one of the deck hands were drowned by the latter and one of the deck hands were drowned by the upsetting of a boat. The remaining 13 succeeded in launching a yawi and, after untold privations, reached the shore. After traveling about five miles ten of them reached an Indian sortlement, where they obtained shelter and sent aid to those who were too exhausted to walk. The rescoing party found one of the latter dead and the other two hearly so. They were taken to the settlement and are now doing well. Ingails & Co. of Daluth owned the steamer, which was insured for part of its value.
